

Next Generation Reservation System for Booking Safari Tours

Case Study

Background

The client wants to solve how travel to African continent is arranged & experienced, currently its complex and inefficient relies on phone/email; has time zone delays; most lodges/hotels do not have real-time booking technology.

Challenge

Simplify the process of booking the tours to bring travelers, travel agents and tour providers to interact together on a common reservation platform. Learn how we can we help solve your travel-specific operational challenges.

Services Provided

About WinAxis Technologies

WinAxis Technologies is a leading global provider of integrated information technology and knowledge process services. WinAxis helps global enterprises evolve the core by leveraging automation, scaled agile and cloud platforms to build efficient application development and management, testing and infrastructure solutions.

For more information, visit us at www.winaxistech.com

